

TEACHING ABOUT RELIGION

Religion influences many areas of education, such as literature and history, and religion's role in civilization can and should be properly taught. Moreover, it is proper for teachers to emphasize the generally accepted moral and ethical principles of all religions and to provide information to and the opportunity for students to study the forms of various religions. In other words, it is proper for teachers to teach about religion as opposed to proselytizing. Study of the Bible and other sacred documents as literary forms may inform students concerning particular sectarian beliefs.
